Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 6, and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hours.

Hours teaches a sorting assembly for sorting articles, the assembly comprising: first and second straight sections; a plurality of chutes, 3, movable in a continuous loop, the chutes movable over a plurality of sort stations, 7, the chutes operable to deposit articles; and a curved connecting section. The curved connecting section includes an outer track and inner track. The straight sections are oriented generally parallel. The assembly further includes a plurality of inducts, 5 and 6, at one end of the straight sections, see figure 1.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Michel.

A sorting assembly for sorting for sorting articles, the assembly comprising: first and second straight sections; a plurality of chutes movable along the first and second straight sections in a loop including a plurality of sort stations, the chutes being operable to deposit articles in to bins at the sort stations. The straight sections are oriented orthogonal to one another.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hours in view of Burns et al.

Hours fails to teach a sorting assembly including a plurality of inducts at both ends of the sorting assembly. Burns et al. teaches an assembly with two straight sections and a plurality of inducts, 32 at the ends of both straight sections and a curved section with an induct located there, see figure 1 and column 2, lines 55+. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add induct station to the end of the other straight section of the Hours patent as taught by Burns et al. if one desired to be able to increase the sorting capacity of the assembly by doubling the amount of articles entered into the system.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kaitlin S. Joerger whose telephone number is 571-272-6938. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 9-5.
